"God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave; for he shall receive me." This declaration from the Psalms is the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson Sermon on "Probation after Death" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.
A Lesson-Sermon account from John's Gospel tells of Jesus appearing to his disciples after his resurrection. Thomas, who had not yet seen Jesus, doubted his appearance. "And" says the account, "after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them; then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you. Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing. And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God."
Mary Baker Eddy writes on this subject in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "Jesus' unchanged physical condition after what seemed to be death was followed by his exaltation above all material conditions; and this exaltation explained his ascension, and revealed unmistakably a probationary and progressive state beyond the grave."

Work Uniforms for Women are Proving Value

Marching along in stepped-up war tempo, women are at work. They are working in war plants, making tools, munitions, airplanes. They are taking men's places in civilian-goods factories, on farms, in hundreds of kinds of laboratories and classrooms. These women must have clothes for strenuous activity and for tough service... work clothes, specially designed for work both in fabric and style. Such work uniforms are not only safer and more efficient, but they conserve those clothes which will not stand such hard use and laundering.
These sturdy denim and chambray garments replace the more perishable woollens and rayons for the greater part of the working woman's day, and so save these needed fabrics, as well as the time and cost of dry cleaning. Among retail firms already well known in the work-clothes field, the J. C. Penney Co. has stepped forward with a series of practical and becoming work garments.
